3 Best Watches Under $5,000

Watch 1

Tudor Black Bay 58 79030N

<https://www.chrono24.com/search/index...>

While it may appear a bit bulky in pictures, in real life, it feels extraordinarily elegant – especially considering it's a diving watch. With its clean design and its versatile 39-mm size, we think that the 58 is in line to become a future classic – if it isn't one already.

Watch 2

Omega Speedmaster 311.30.42.30.01.005

<https://www.chrono24.com/search/index...>

The Speedmaster is arguably Omega's most popular model, and thanks to its role in NASA's manned space missions, it holds a unique position in the watch world. Buzz Aldrin was wearing his Speedmaster when he first stepped foot on the lunar surface in 1969, so there's no mystery as to why so many watch lovers consider this watch an all-time classic.

The reference 311.30.42.30.01.005 has a beautiful matte black dial with white indices, text, hands, and subdial hands. The design is high-contrast but still manages to have an elegance about it, making this timepiece incredibly versatile. You can easily wear it as a sports watch during the day and a dress watch in the evening. You might even say its design is unrivaled, especially when talking about chronograph watches.

Watch 3

Rolex Datejust 16014

<https://www.chrono24.com/search/index...>

The Datejust 16014 is among the most graceful daily wearers ever produced. Its polished hour markers, subtle hands, and famous logo at 12 o'clock are all perfectly proportioned and positioned. When you factor in quality, history, and prestige, there are very few watches that can compete with this model right here, especially in this price range.
